Description

Research Triangle Institute (RTI) has over 30 years' experience assisting governments, communities, and the private sector. As a non-for-profit, independent research institute based in North Carolina, USA, RTI has roughly 5,000 employees with global experience implementing international development projects in education and other disciplines. RTI's International Education Division leads education development around the world by strengthening education policy, management, and practice to achieve measurable improvement in teaching and learning. From our well-established reputation in education system strengthening, to innovative work in early grade assessment and learning, RTI is improving education quality, relevance, and efficiency through implementation of projects funded by USAID, DFID, FCDO, The LEGO Foundation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, and other donors and clients.

RTI is seeking a Deputy Chief of Party – Operations for the anticipated follow-on to the USAID-funded Kenya Tusome Early Grade Reading Activity. RTI has been implementing this project since 2014, reaching all public schools nationwide to improve learning outcomes for children in grades 1-3. The anticipated follow-on activity will likely continue and expand EGR support to schools, strengthen education system capacity, and address other needs in the community. The DCOP Operations will be responsible for supporting the Chief of Party in all operation and management aspects of the project. This position will be responsible for overseeing all financial management, procurement, HR, communications, logistics, security, and field operations on the project.

The position will be based in Kenya and recruitment is contingent upon successful award of the project and final USAID approval.

Responsibilities

Responsibilities of the DCOP of Operations include, but are not limited to:

- Support the Chief of Party in all operation and management aspects of the project and serves as second in command in the Chief of Party absence.
- Ensure proper administration of the project and oversee all financial, procurement, HR, communications, logistics, security and field operations.
- Ensures the project conforms to USAID rules and regulations as well as project agreement requirements, including cost, schedule, and quality parameters.
- Oversee the intersection of contract, budget, and technical work, engaging appropriate RTI contract and finance staff as needed.
- Coordinate the development, implementation and reporting on detailed management plans that may include implementation plans, deliverable tracking, etc., in assigned area of responsibility.
- Monitor and review project budget and expenditures, financial forecasts, working with business partners to ensure compliance with corporate and client regulations.
- Responsible to ensure project financial goals are met.
- Responsible for the accuracy of project timelines, tasks, milestones, resource requirements, costs, risks and execution.
- Track and report quarterly on programmatic achievements as required for
